

Things To Do This Week | New York: Jeff Bark's "Goldenboy"

70 Bucks, 2014

Excerpt

Jeff Bark's Goldenboy, showing at Hasted Kraeutler Gallery, appear to be photographs captured in Southern California, circa 1980. This is not the case. Bark meticulously recreated a replica of the California backyard in which he made his first photographs, the perks of building such a set are apparent in the masterfully captured light; the time of day is eerily ambiguous.
